This month we continue our new program schedule which will include both in-person and on-line services. Of his service, Dennis says: This isn't a message about how to raise them or treat them, or anything like that. I don't have kids of my own. I've never wanted that, and this will explain a little about that (perhaps more to me, than to you). This might just be me dancing around the topic of our start in life, and how life may violate what should be a trust. And how with the right support (and sometimes, amazingly, with no support), sometimes we move on from that start.

The board and the buildings & grounds committee are seeking input from the Fellowship about how we should view ourselves and the place of our building in that vision. This will serve as the foundation for a decision-making process about upkeep of the building. All opinions are welcome and encouraged.
