

December Calendar

We have figured out how to use a hybrid model for programming which combines people gathering at the church with others linked in remotely through ZOOM. Sometimes the presenter will be at the church and those on ZOOM will be able to see and participate. Conversely, if the presenter is at a remote location, those who wish to gather at the church can see the presentation on screen, participate, and enjoy each other's company as well. Links will be sent out on Saturdays. If you have not been vaccinated, we request that you wear a mask while in the church building.

Poet Richard Terrill and Jazz composer Larry McDonough return. Richard and Larry will share the ways in which they each go about creating their art. Richard will talk about three or four poems; Larry will talk about two of his compositions.

Dennis will be at the church in person and notes: "Recently I talked about "Stardust," and gave examples of individuals who have metaphorically "sprinkled" stardust on humanity, helping to propel us forward in some important field. Afterward, someone gently chided me for the fact that all of my examples were men! And she gave me a long list as a "starter," of women who also belong on that list. So I thought I'd start with women from our UU tradition, and just give a few examples of contributors to that "Stardust." And one other!"

Rev. Suzanne says this about her service: "God rest ye merry, gentlemen. Let nothing you dismay." So goes the old Christmas carol. But can we – gentlemen, gentlewomen, gentlefolk – truly rest merry in this holiday season? Probably not. But, then again, when else?

Don't forget to notify Judy (judith.barisonzi@gmail.com) by December 4 if you wish to participate in our second annual BHUU gift exchange!

The link for us to zoom into the Auburn UU Christmas program will be sent later in the month.
